PROPOSAL FOR A GRADUATE AREA OF EMPHASIS

School/College: Education
Department/Division: Language and Literacy Education
Major: English Education

If major has more than one area of emphasis, submit all areas of emphasis under one major together. A course may appear in more than one area of emphasis, but each area of emphasis should have a distinct focus.

Major Requirements: Attach a list of requirements for the major. Undergraduate programs may attach a copy of the major requirements from the online bulletin. Graduate programs may provide a list of general requirements for the major.

Area of Emphasis Title (as it will appear in the Bulletin): Literacy Coach

Proposed starting date: Fall 2006

Area of Emphasis Description:
Include prefixes, numbers and titles of required courses, number of credit hours required; residency requirements (if any); and grade requirements (if any). Graduate Areas of Emphasis may refer to groups of courses if necessary.

Introduction

The proposed Literacy Coach emphasis is for P-12 elementary and secondary educators who are interested in assuming the evolving leadership role that is described by school agencies and professional organizations as reading coach or literacy coach. As noted recently in The Role and Qualification of The Reading Coach in the United States: A Position Statement of the International Reading Association, (2004, http://www.reading.org/resources/issues/positions_coach.html), our field's most prominent reading education organization, "there is considerable variability in the job descriptions for these coaches." The IRA goes on to state in this document that "there is little consistency in the training, backgrounds, and skills required for such positions, and there is little consistency in the general competence of coaches." Drawing from these standards, the Alliance for Excellent Education (2000), a policy, advocacy, and research organization, asserts that there is a need for "high-quality coursework that meets the standards of national organizations for the preparation of literacy professionals" (p. 22). The Alliance argues further that "preparation should provide a strong background in theory and evidence-based practices as well as a deep understanding of the needs of local schools and learners" (22).

To provide leadership in the training of literacy coaches, the faculty of the Department of Language and Literacy Education has constructed an area of emphasis that provides a rigorous set of courses and experiences to prepare professional educators who are currently serving in coaching roles and those aspiring to assume such responsibilities. Drawing from standards outlined by the IRA for elementary coaches in the Standards for Reading Professionals (2003, http://www.reading.org/resources/issues/reports/professional_standards.html ) and the recent complementary Standards for Middle and High School Literacy Coaches (2006, http://www.reading.org/resources/issues/reports/coaching.html ), as well as research that calls for the development of literacy coach programs, we have constructed the following Literacy Coach emphasis.

Emphasis Description

The Literacy Coach emphasis consists of nine 3-credit-hour courses (27 hours total). The emphasis includes a six-course (18 hour) Core component and a three-course (9 hour) Specialization component. The Specialization component will prepare teachers for literacy coaching specifically at either the Elementary or Secondary level. Teachers completing the program also will satisfy requirements for the Georgia Professional Standards Commission "Reading Endorsement."
Following are the specific Core and Specialization component courses:
