RE: Proposal for New Prefix for Language and Literacy Education

Enclosed please find a proposal from the Department of Language and Literacy Education requesting a new prefix of LLED. This will replace prefixes for Language Education (ELAN) and Reading Education (READ). The College of Education's Curriculum Committee approved this proposal on April 10, 2008.

If you have any questions, do no hesitate to contact me.

To: University Curriculum Committee

Courses offered through the Department of Language and Literacy Education currently are identified by one of two course prefixes: ELAN or READ derived from the old departments of Language Education and Reading Education that were merged in 2005 to form the new Department of Language and Literacy Education. We are requesting a new LLED course prefix for all courses offered through this department.
