PROGRAM NAME CHANGES:

Current Program Name: Graduate Certificate in Transformative Leadership
Current Program CIP: 52021301

Proposed Program Name: Graduate Certificate in Complexity Leadership
Proposed Program CIP: 52021301

JUSTIFICATION:

The Learning, Leadership, and Organization Development (LLOD) program requests to change the name of the Graduate Certificate in Transformational Leadership to the Graduate Certificate in Complexity Leadership. This change better reflects the revisions in LLOD curriculum offerings for the certificate and the intent of the program to prepare leaders to respond to complex and unknown contexts.

The Learning, Leadership, and Organization Development program has continually innovated and reinvented itself to respond to what is emerging in theory, praxis, and response-ability. The Complexity Leadership certificate is the next such response.

The Graduate Certificate in Complexity Leadership aims to decenter the outcomes-focused, goal-driven, performative stance of traditional leadership approaches and instead to center relationality—relationality to oneself, each other, context, and culture. This move invites new ways of forming leaders to become ready for the inevitable unpredictable directions change and evolution take.
Certificate Intent

- Forming leaders to respond to complex and unknown contexts
- Forming leaders for timely action: Growing capacity to respond to the unknown complexity of an emerging future
- Form leaders who form leaders

Principles of Signature Pedagogy

The curriculum of the certificate is grounded in complexity science, adult learning and development, systems theory, and change theory. The following principles guide this signature pedagogy:

- Dynamic play of constraints and freedoms in context
- Intentional readying for response-able leader work
- Cultivating capacity to encounter complexity at its threshold
- Inquiring beneath experience to uncover generative knowing
- New languaging of leadership to reflect making way within the paradox of agency
- Complexity as creation of new pathways and new ecologies
