College of Environment and Design
Experiential Learning Implementation Plan

Certification Officer: David Spooner, Associate Professor and BLA Program Director

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture (BLA) degree in the College of Environment and Design will fulfill the experiential learning requirement through successful completion of a required professional internship, a professional office experience under the supervision of a licensed landscape architect or related practitioner.

Students should consult early in their program of study with the Internship Coordinator, who oversees internship selection, enrollment, and successful performance and completion.

The internship courses that fulfill the requirement for BLA students are as follows:

LAND 4700 Landscape Architecture Internship (3 hours)

LAND 4701 Landscape Architecture Internship (6 hours)

LAND 4702 Landscape Architecture Internship (8 hours)
